

Hi fellow Houston RPCVs,

We wanted to make you aware that fellow Houston RPCV Ryan Gorczycki is doing a fundraiser with the support of the non-profit Anjiro Initiative, started by a fellow RPCV, to fund middle school scholarships to cover annual tuition for students in his former Peace Corps host town of Mahabo Mananivo, Madagascar to help students continue their education. We encourage you to support Ryan's fundraiser as you are able using the Go Fund Me link below.

The fundraiser's goal is to fund 50 or more middle school students, where at that level the average cost per student for tuition and program administrative costs is around $25. According to UNESCO, only about a third of students in Madagascar finish middle school, so the goal of the fundraiser is to help address this challenge in Mahabo, a rural town located in southeast Madagascar.
